THE GLORIOUS WEST.

Nearly all of the western Republican counties in Pennsylvania have given increased Republican majorities. Washington gives 350 Republican; Beaver, 900; Lawrence, 2,400; Butler, 500; glorious old Armstrong, 1,000; Jefferson, 90; Venango, 700; Mercer, 900; Crawford, 1,700; Erie, 3,300; Warren, 900; and Indiana, 2,400; while Westmoreland gives only 1,100 Democratic majority; Fayette but 800; Greene, 1,400; Clarion, 1,100; Elk, 600, and Cambria only 500.

Altogether Western Pennsylvania has done her part faithfully, and won to herself imperishable renown by her unswerving attachment to the right.

There is now not a single copperhead member of Congress in Western Pennsylvania, nor west of the Susquehanna, except one in the York district, which is near the Southeastern corner of the State.

THE WAIL OF A TRAITOR.

"There is no other such country in the world; I have visited every kingdom and people which have any position among the nations of the earth, and with the intention, if ever I could find an acceptable place, to settle down and gather my little family around me, and there in quiet spend the remainder of my days; but I find no place in which I am willing to leave my family. No. For good or evil, the best country is the United States."

So writes JACOB THOMPSON from Dublin. And yet the scoundrel, with his perjured associates, seceded, rebelled, and rushed into a long and desolating war to destroy this best of governments and most glorious of countries. If he is really penitent, let him be forgiven; but let us beware how we take to our bosoms the thousands of men who did what he did and still glory in it.

A NORFOLK (Va.) correspondent of the Raleigh (N. C.) Progress, a rabid rebel sheet, says:

"The good work of purging the Gosport Navy Yard of Radical office-holders and employees is still progressing admirably. Our noble President is aware that there are certain conditions in political, as well as physical growth, when, to check a tendency to corruption of the vital blood, strong emetics are necessary to the restoration and harmonious operation of the functions of the body."

The men to take their places doubtless belong to the class who, in 1861, attempted to seize this valuable station and compelled the officers in command to burn vessels and munitions of war worth many millions of dollars, to prevent them from falling into the hands of the rebels. Thus ANDREW JOHNSON reconstructs the South and increases the necessity of extreme care in putting only loyal men on guard in the Northern States.

GOOD FOR OLD ARMSTRONG.—The estimated majority for GEARY in this county was set down at 300, which would have been regarded as doing pretty well; but the latest accounts state that it is between 900 and 1,000. A large number of "boys in blue" went from that county, and were fighting rebels when LINCOLN was last elected, but this vote shows that those who survived are home again. It is but a few years since Armstrong was one of the strongholds of the Democracy.

TWENTY-FIRST DISTRICT.—The following is the latest report of the Congressional vote in this district:

	Covode.	Weir.
Westmoreland		1,122
Fayette (estimated)		800
Indiana	2,284
	1,922
		1,922
Covode's majority	362

THE vote of Pulaski township, Lawrence county, Pa., is as follows:

Geary	292 Maj.
Clymer	44–248
Lawrence	206
Montgomery	44–250

Being a gain of fifty-eight on Curtin's majority.

—The first installment of the money Austria has to pay Prussia went from Vienna a few days since in a special train. It consisted of 20,000,000 reich thalers (about the same number of dollars in greenbacks). It is all silver, and occupied twenty men six days in counting it out, and reckoning thirty thaelers to the pound, weighs 6,666.66 pounds, or with the packing, 7,000. It was under the guard of a detachment of thirty-six trusty soldiers, together with the proper treasury officers and their servants.

—In commencing upon a recent census return, a New Zealand paper states that the great want of the colony is an "infusion of robust, vigorous and industrious women." In December, 1863, there were in that colony 108,508 males of European descent, and 63,578 females. The journal referred to recommends a systematic course of female emigration.

—It is reported from Florence, that Prince Humbert, heir to the Crown of Italy, has a purpose of marriage with an Austrian Archduchess, and that the Trent and some more semi-Italian territory still held by Austria, will be transferred as her dowry. The Prince is in his twenty third year, and such a marriage might be of much political importance.

—The Island recently thrown up on the Florida coast, by volcanic action, has been explored, and consists mainly of quicksand, dangerous to travel on except in one small portion, which is of a rocky nature. Some signs of vegetation are already apparent, some rank grasses and plants having started.

—It is said that there is a village in Vermont which has four churches. Only one of these has a bell, but inasmuch as the other denominations refuse to assist to pay for the ringing of it, the owners of the bell will not allow it to be rung at all.

White Girls Ransomed from Indians.

ST. LOUIS, October 11.—Capt. Barlow, of Gen. Sherman's staff, arrived yesterday from Fort Dodge, where he saw two white girls named Dave, one seven and the other thirteen years of age, who had been ransomed from the Keowa Indians. The girls say that on the 27th of August, the Keowa's attacked their home in north western Texas, and killed, scalped and burn d their father; themselves, mother and sister, eight years old, were made captives, and treated in the most revolting manner. On arriving at the indian camp, the captives were knocked senseless with clubs, and repeatedly ravished by the fiends, and were treated in this manner four or five times every day. On hearing their condition, the commanding officer, not having sufficient power to rescue them, effected their ransom, and will send them to their friends in Texas as soon as they recover from their terrible sufferings. While in the Indian camp the officer sent to arrange their ransom saw the captives knocked down three times and violated.

Gen. Sherman will arrive here on the 16th.

JOHNSON'S ALLEGED QUERIES.

THE STATEMENT FALSE.

Denial by the President and Attorney General Stansberry.

THE "LEDGER'S" EXPLANATION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—There is positively no truth in the special dispatch sent from this city to the Philadelphia Ledger, relative to the alleged queries by President Johnson, as to the statues of Congress made of Attorney General Stanberry.

On the Philadelphia Ledger's dispatch having been read to President Johnson to day, he pronounced it false from beginning to end, as not containing one word of truth, and in addition to this Attorney General Stanberry has made an equally positive denial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Philadelphia Ledger, in a statement regarding the canard which appeared in that sheet yesterday, says that it was published as received from an experienced, well informed and usually careful correspondent, who was deceived, and adds: "While we sincerely regret that an error on so important a subject has found its way into the Ledger, even in our correspondence, we are glad to be able to record the fact that the President has not raised so serious a question, for no sound lawyer can debat the entire legality of the existing Congress.

Two Whole Families Drowned.

SEVERAL DEAD BODIES FOUND.

DESTRUCTION OF LIVE STOCK.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—A heavy rain storm set in yesterday afternoon and increased during the night. A great amount of water fell and the streets were flooded. In some of the lower portions of the city the water is several feet deep, the water filling the cellars, &c. The streams are all very high. Several railroad bridges near the city have been washed away. The Patapsco is 12 feet higher.

LATER.—The rain has continued to-day almost without intermission and is still falling. A heavy easterly wind prevails. All accounts agree that the height of water which fell in this region last night and this morning was most extraordinary. A number of dams and bridges on the Patapsco were destroyed. An extensive dam at Elysville was swept off, and coming against the turnpike bridge at Elliott's it destroyed it.

The wrecks finally accumulated at the heavy stone bridge at Hichester, on the Baltimore and Ohio Road, thirteen miles from Baltimore, which gave way to the tremendous pressure. This bridge was considered the strongest on the road, and had stood out against all former floods. It is said other bridges on the line are safe. A large force of workmen have commenced repairs and trains will run as usual to-morrow. Considerable destruction of live stock is reported. Hundreds of sheep, cows and horses are strewn along the river.

BALTIMORE, October 11.—Heavy floods on all the streams have caused considerable damage and loss of life. A number of mills and bridges have been carried away. There are other reports of loss of life, but nothing definite has been ascertained.

Conversion of Seven-Thirties into Five-Twenties—Heavy Runs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Conversions of the Seven-Thirty notes, falling due August 15th, into Five-Twenties continue to be made to the Treasury Department at the rate of something less than four millions per week. There are now outstanding about two hundred and seventy millions of this issue of Seven-Thirties. These notes, owing to the immense clerical labor involved in their examination, can be redeemed by the Department at only about the average rate of five millions per week, if presented as rapidly as they could be disposed of. Parties holding Seven-Thirty notes of the above issue will therefore do well to forward them to the Treasury for conversion into Five-Twenties as soon as possible.

The storm has continued since yesterday, with but brief intermission.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON THIRD PAGE.)

Thieves Arrested—Recovery of Stolen Property.

In our issue of yesterday morning we stated that a colored man named Massey, who occupies a room adjoining the St. Nicholas Hotel as a cleaning room, had his shop broken into on Tuesday night and robbed of a very considerable amount of clothing, &c. The lock was pried open with a case-knife, which the thieves left behind them. Yesterday morning Mr. Massey came to the Mayor's office bringing the case-knife, and stating that he recognized it as the one he had seen George Evans, night clerk of the St. Nicholas use in eating his night lunch. Massey was directed to make information against Evans for larceny, and the case was put into the hands of officer Moon, who started in search of the accused. Evans was promptly arrested and locked up. Chief Hague and officer Moon, continued their investigations, and very shortly after the arrest of Evans, their watchful researches revealed James S. Cook and Fred. Ryman, as the accomplices of Evans. Officer Moon proceeded and raised these two, and in their possession found all the property stolen from Mr. Massey. On the person of Lyman, was found a valuable gold watch, which from the inscription on the back of it appears to be the property of a fellowman of this city, on the night of the grand procession, which closed the Soldier's Convention in this city. The gentleman had his pocket picked of the watch and chain, and his pocket book containing a considerable sum of money. The watch was found in Lyman's possession. The officers also found on Lyman's person $15 in money and a pawn ticket calling for a valuable gold chain. Taking the ticket with him, officer Moon went to the pawnshop and found the chain which belonged with the watch. After these revelations had been made the prisoners were locked up to await a hearing to-day. Lyman hails originally from New York and more recently from Philadelphia. Some time ago he was barkeeper at the St. Charles Hotel. He states that he has a wife living in Philadelphia. Cook's parents reside in Washington, Pa., and are said to be very respectable people.

Lighting on a Spree.

At about five o'clock on Tuesday evening, as Mr. James Hoge, telegraph operator in Zanesville, was engaged in telegraphing a message to Cincinnati, he was startled by noticing on the switch board a sheet of lightning about four inches wide and ten inches long. This flashed along the lower side of the switch board, accompanied by a report like that made by the discharge of a pistol, and the flash instantly disappeared, without distinguishing or damaging anything in the office, not even interrupting the circuit at the time. Immediately thereafter it was discovered that the oil or rosin fluid had passed from the attaching ball or stairway, leading to the office, and had there struck the gas pipe, perforating it—a small hole, into which a man's finger might be inserted, and that the fluid then escaped. This was soon extinguished, and no other damage was found to have been done. The gas pipe, where perforated, was found directly beneath the switch board in the office, with no wires or other means of communication, and with a brick wall separating the two points. There was necessarily any appearance of a storm at the time, and the whole case is a curious one.

Gents' Furnishing Goods.

Gentlemen hitherto have experienced much difficulty in obtaining suitable articles of furnishing goods at rates approaching the reasonable. But a new era of low prices has been established, and now the city boasts of a first class Gents' Furnishing emporium where gentlemen can, without any trouble whatever, suit themselves in everything pertaining to a complete outfit of inner garments. Messrs. Murdock & Putnam, 75 Fifth street, are the proprietors, and from their liberal manner of transacting business, and great facilities at their command, we are glad to learn, have succeeded in establishing a large and fashionable patronage. They deal extensively in all kinds of linen and flannel under-garments, shirts, collars, cuffs, ties, and in fact everything to be found in the entire variety of hosiery. In short this is just the establishment whereat to make all of our purchases in this particular line of trade. Their prices are very reasonable, their selection of stock large and their articles are all warranted to be most serviceable. The merchants of this city have long felt the need of accommodating gentlemen in every way worthy of the confidence and patronage of the community. Remember the Emporium is located at No. 75 Fifth street.

How Long First?

This is the leading question among the residents along North avenue, Allegheny. The avenue is to be paved during the present season, if the huge piles of boulders and long lines of curb-stones which have been deposited at various points along the thoroughfare is any indication. There is so much tardiness, however, exhibited in commencing operations that it is doubtful whether the work will be completed during the season. The thoroughfare has been paved from Federal street westward, with a view. The remaining block lying east of Federal street is a perfect swamp during the winter months, and it is to be hoped that the contractors will use all possible effort to get the work before the inclement season is upon us. The people hope that their question may be speedily answered.

Mutilated Currency.

Treasurer Spinner desires persons who have forwarded packages of mutilated fractional currency to the Treasury Department for redemption, and have received no communication from the Department announcing the receipt of the package and enclosing the amount of the sum forwarded, to address a letter as before, stating distinctly the amount forwarded, the date of transmittal, and the name and post-office address of the writer. The officers of the Treasury may thus be enabled to identify a large number of packages now in their possession, the forwarders of which neglected to state their names or postoffices.

Nice Earnings.—The Atlantic & Great Western Railway earned three million six hundred thousand dollars, between Jan. 1st and Sept. 1st this year.

Methodist Centenary.

This year may be properly termed, among our Methodist friends, as the "Year of Jubilee," judging from the demonstrations everywhere among that body. Since the opening of the year, until the present time, the event has been commemorated in some shape or form by special services, religious or otherwise. The month of October, however, is to be specially devoted to Centenary purposes, for holding religious services and securing contributions. In some communities religious services are held daily.

While several congregations in this city and immediate neighborhood have secured contributions, either for the purpose of liquidating a debt on their church property, or improving it, it is nevertheless expected that all the churches will also contribute to local and general centennial objects.

It will be remembered the general centenary movement was inaugurated several weeks ago by Rev. Dr. Pershing, in the interest of the Pittsburgh Female College, at which meeting a large sum was obtained. Since then the Canton (Ohio) Methodist Episcopal congregation held a grand meeting, at which Bishop Simpson delivered an address of great power. Nearly eighty thousand dollars were secured mainly for Mount Union College, Mount Union, Ohio. It is expected the sum will be greatly increased. A movement is also on foot in that congregation to create a Chair in that institution, to be called "The Ladies' Centenary Chair."

Sabbath last Christ church of this city devoted the day to centenary purposes. During the day the handsome sum of well nigh one hundred thousand dollars were secured, for various centenary objects, such as Allegheny College, Pittsburgh Female College, Book Depository and Advocate building in this city, Church parsonage, etc. It is likely the sum will be considerably augmented.

Besides the "material" efforts, the pastors of the M. E. churches of this city have arranged a series of religious services to be held in several of the churches on each Friday evening, during this month. The first of the series took place at Wesley Chapel, Fifth Ward, on Friday evening last, at which time Rev. E. B. Sawyer, pastor of Christ church, delivered a discourse on "Christian Perfection" from these words, "Ahab served Baal a little." After the sermon the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. Among the ministers present were S. P. Woolf, Presiding Elder of Pittsburgh District, Dr. C. A. Holmes, Revs. S. F. Jones, J. W. Baker, Weekly, R. T. Miller, W. F. Turner.

The remainder of the series will be held at the following churches: Friday evening, 19th, at Pennsylvania Avenue M. E. Church, serving by Rev. S. F. Jones; Friday evening, 26th, a sermon will be delivered in the Liberty Street M. E. Church by Rev. C. A. Holmes, D. D. On Friday evening, 26th, the Rev. W. P. Turner, of East Liberty, will deliver a suitable discourse in Christ Church. It is in contemplation to hold a general centenial meeting on the 4th of last month, at Smithfield street Methodist Episcopal Church, under the direction of Rev. Dr. C. A. Holmes, pastor of the church. All the Methodist Congregations in the city unite in holding these special services in the respective churches named.

The Allegheny district, or Allegheny District, Rev. J. J. Williams, P. E., C. W. Kenney, Esq., Secretary, announces that there will be a centenary meeting of the preachers and lay members of Reaver Street, North avenue, and South Common, on Wednesday, October 17th, at 7½ o'clock p. m., in the South Common church, when a centenary sermon by J. Meetings in the bounds of this district are also to be held at New Brighton, Pa., on the 23d, and at Sarem, Ohio, on the 24th and 25th.

The Secret of Consumption

May be ascertained, in the fact of the neglect of the first invading of some minor disease of the throat or lungs. How is it with men, that they are so often and so suddenly struck down with a bad cough or cold! We will tell you; they neglect to attend to the first symptoms, for instance, a man stands half an hour on some street corner talking, forgetting that his system is absorbing through his feet and the pores of his skin, the causes of a deadly and fatal disease. How are we to prevent it? Reader we will tell you. Thousands of cases of consumption have been cured by "Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup." It not only hinders, but it cures and carries off through the channels appointed by nature, the first inflammations which stop up, and choke the admission of air into the lungs.

Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup has, in hundreds of cases, restored a healthy state of the lungs. We have known less than half a bottle stop the most violent and harrassing cough, and in the person, on the other half, restore total immunity from coughs the rest of the winter. Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup is really a wonderful medicine and has restored to health five thousand of the citizens of Pittsburg. No one who tries a bottle of Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup can doubt of its efficacy. It has saved the lives of hundreds of lives by its timely use, and it will cure more coughs and colds than any other medicine of the kind we know of. We have published halls originally from New York and more recently from Philadelphia. Some time ago he was barkeeper at the St. Charles Hotel. He states that he has a wife living in Philadelphia. Cook's parents reside in Washington, Pa., and are said to be very respectable people.

Lighting on a Spree.

At about five o'clock on Tuesday evening, as Mr. James Hoge, telegraph operator in Zanesville, was engaged in telegraphing a message to Cincinnati, he was startled by noticing on the switch board a sheet of lightning about four inches wide and ten inches long. This flashed along the lower side of the switch board, accompanied by a report like that made by the discharge of a pistol, and the flash instantly disappeared, without distinguishing or damaging anything in the office, not even interrupting the circuit at the time. Immediately thereafter it was discovered that the oil or rosin fluid had passed from the attaching ball or stairway, leading to the office, and had there struck the gas pipe, perforating it—a small hole, into which a man's finger might be inserted, and that the fluid then escaped. This was soon extinguished, and no other damage was found to have been done. The gas pipe, where perforated, was found directly beneath the switch board in the office, with no wires or other means of communication, and with a brick wall separating the two points. There was necessarily any appearance of a storm at the time, and the whole case is a curious one.

Gents' Furnishing Goods.

Gentlemen hitherto have experienced much difficulty in obtaining suitable articles of furnishing goods at rates approaching the reasonable. But a new era of low prices has been established, and now the city boasts of a first class Gents' Furnishing emporium where gentlemen can, without any trouble whatever, suit themselves in everything pertaining to a complete outfit of inner garments. Messrs. Murdock & Putnam, 75 Fifth street, are the proprietors, and from their liberal manner of transacting business, and great facilities at their command, we are glad to learn, have succeeded in establishing a large and fashionable patronage. They deal extensively in all kinds of linen and flannel under-garments, shirts, collars, cuffs, ties, and in fact everything to be found in the entire variety of hosiery. In short this is just the establishment whereat to make all of our purchases in this particular line of trade. Their prices are very reasonable, their selection of stock large and their articles are all warranted to be most serviceable. The merchants of this city have long felt the need of accommodating gentlemen in every way worthy of the confidence and patronage of the community. Remember the Emporium is located at No. 75 Fifth street.

How Long First?

This is the leading question among the residents along North avenue, Allegheny. The avenue is to be paved during the present season, if the huge piles of boulders and long lines of curb-stones which have been deposited at various points along the thoroughfare is any indication. There is so much tardiness, however, exhibited in commencing operations that it is doubtful whether the work will be completed during the season. The thoroughfare has been paved from Federal street westward, with a view. The remaining block lying east of Federal street is a perfect swamp during the winter months, and it is to be hoped that the contractors will use all possible effort to get the work before the inclement season is upon us. The people hope that their question may be speedily answered.

Mutilated Currency.

Treasurer Spinner desires persons who have forwarded packages of mutilated fractional currency to the Treasury Department for redemption, and have received no communication from the Department announcing the receipt of the package and enclosing the amount of the sum forwarded, to address a letter as before, stating distinctly the amount forwarded, the date of transmittal, and the name and post-office address of the writer. The officers of the Treasury may thus be enabled to identify a large number of packages now in their possession, the forwarders of which neglected to state their names or postoffices.

Nice Earnings.—The Atlantic & Great Western Railway earned three million six hundred thousand dollars, between Jan. 1st and Sept. 1st this year.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather last evening, the attendance at the Opera House was very large, the auditorium being resplendent with beauty and fashion. "Maritana" or "Don Caesar De Bazan," done in opera, was given with all the grand effect that has characterized the performances of the Richings Troupe since their advent among us.

To-night Miss Caroline Richings, the accomplished Directress of the Company, will be the recipient of a grand complimentary benefit, as a testimonial of the esteem in which she is held, both personally and professionally by the people of this city. On Monday and Tuesday the talented artiste will appear at this establishment in a new play called "The Porter's Knot."

THEATRE.—Crowded houses still continue to greet those two great and justly popular representatives of Irish character, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence, at this house. That they are fully appreciated by the patronage bestowed upon them any one who has been one of their numerous auditors for a single evening will admit. To-night they will positively conclude, offering a tremendous bill for the occasion. We look for a large house.

TREMBLEY'S VARIETIES.—This neat, cosy temple of amusement is nightly thronged by large and appreciative audiences to witness the varied and choice programme offered by the enterprising management. The beautiful specimen of the "Ice Witch," and an amusing olio with Irish ballads from the laughter provoking Carleton is the attraction for this evening.

A Feminine Rampant.

John McDermott came to the office of Alderman Taylor yesterday and instituted legal proceedings against his sister-in-law, Susan Gallagher, for surety of the peace. The prosecutor alleges that Susan entered the sacred precinct of his own domicil, situated in the Fifth ward, and gave him a candle lecture according to the most approved method. Among other things she said that she would burn down the aforementioned domicil and cut the deponent's throat. Fearing her threats would be carried into execution John made an information as stated.

Susan was arrested and arraigned before the magisterial bar, where she exercised her womanly prerogative—free speech—to such an extent as to cause the Alderman to notify her if she did not control her vocal battery she would be constrained to fine her for disorderly conduct. This had the desired effect, and Susan gave security in the sum of three hundred dollars for a hearing to-day.

Probable Fatal Accident.

A lady named Sarah Boyle was run over by a butcher wagon, on Ohio street, yesterday morning, sustaining injuries of such a serious nature

THE ATTITUDE OF THE PRESIDENT.

"Though thou bray a fool in a mortar with a pestle, yet will not his folly depart from him," says the wise man. Although the verity of this aphorism has been attested ten thousand times since Solomon's day, it remained for ANDREW JOHNSON to furnish the strongest verification of its correctness that the annals of the world afford.

In the face of the thundering verdict of an indignant country against himself, and in vindication of the action of Congress, upon the gravest question that ever claimed their decision, he puts a series of questions to the Attorney General touching the legality of the very Congress which the votes of a vast majority of the American people—State after State without any exceptions—have just sustained, or will, as soon as the time to speak arrives.

We were at first inclined to regard the report of this last and crowning act of madness on his part as sensational; but subsequent reflection induces us to regard it as authentic; and for the present, at least, we shall so treat it. It is not necessary to rehearse the questions he puts to his attorney, for our readers have all seen them. We shall only cite the fifth and last, which is in these words:

Fifth. What steps do the Constitution and his oath of office require the President to take, in order to secure the assemblage of a constitutional Congress?

He wants to know what he shall do, "In order to secure the assemblage of a Constitutional Congress." This inquiry is plainly predicated upon the assumption that the existing Congress is not a constitutional body. This is in accordance with his former declarations, in which he spoke of it as a body "claiming" to be the Congress of the United States, and as "hanging upon the verge of the government."

As the Attorney General is a creature of his own, and holds his position upon the same terms that hundreds of other poor creatures throughout the country hold office at his hands—a servile and unquestioning support of his "policy"—we may safely assume that the same mind that dictated the questions will dictate the answers; and that whatever ANDREW JOHNSON wishes to do, the Attorney General will tell him it is his duty to do.

But what can he do. Congress, as now constituted, embraces the representatives of about four-fifths of the United States, and more than two-thirds of these have said (and the people have ratified the decree) that the representatives of the States lately in rebellion can only come in on certain specified conditions. What then can the President do? (or what business has he to interfere in the matter at all? He cannot make a constitutional Congress out of the representatives of the rebel States, even were all the copperheads now in Congress to join them, for combined, they would still fall far short of a numerical quorum. Does he suppose that, although Congress may recognize him as constitutionally invested with the office of President of the United States, that it will allow him to play the part of a dictator, and usurp its prerogatives? Or is it his purpose to fall back upon his power as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, and compel obedience to his imperial behests? If he knows anything, he knows that this is his only expedient, if he intends to interfere in the matter at all; and if he does not so intend, why ask such questions? He knows that Congress would laugh to scorn any other effort he could make to thrust rebel representatives into the halls of Congress.

Well, let him try it; but if he does the country will soon be rid of him; and whether he shall be sent to the scaffold or to a mad-house will be a question to be determined afterwards. Such an attempt might lead to war, but it would be a very short one. "Bayonets think," was the sententious but pregnant remark of somebody in Europe. In America it is peculiarly true; and if ANDREW JOHNSON should attempt to usurp authority that does not belong to him, and ride rough-shod over the people and their representatives, he will discover to his dismay that "bayonets think," and that our soldiers will shoot as they voted.

A STRAW.

The Philadelphia News, a leading Copperhead journal, more noted for its venom and violence than for its strength, has, in its issue of the 10th, the day after the election, a long and carefully written article as to the propriety of President JOHNSON setting Congress aside, and taking the power of the Government entirety into his own hands. We should have passed the article by as the ravings of a heated and disappointed partisan journal, had it not appeared almost simultaneously with the President's questions to his Attorney General, plainly indicating that he is meditating some such movement. The article is headed, "Can the President Prorogue Congress?" and, in order to show the drift of the argument, we make a few extracts:

"If we were simply asked what the Constitution expressly authorizes the President to do, we should have no difficulty in answering the question, and if it were asked what latitude of action might be allowed in a time of extreme danger to the very existence of the Republic, we should say that if it be right to take the acts of the present Congress as precedents, the President would be justified in sending a body of troops to the Capitol and arresting all the members of Congress, placing them in prison, and carrying on the government without their aid or interference. If he should do so, they, at least, would have no right to complain; for it would merely be doing what they are now doing, acting without regard for the Constitution.

That the majority of the present Congress have acted without respect for the supreme law no candid man will deny; and that they have already in a measure overturned the government and assumed despotic power is patent to every intelligent person in the country. The question, therefore, which naturally arises is this: Would the President be justifiable in temporarily assuming power not expressly granted by the Constitution, in order to prevent the consummation of the designs of the revolutionists, and give the people an opportunity to re-establish the Constitution?

The italics in the first paragraph are ours, those in the second are its own. Here the threat is openly made to overthrow the government by military force, and establish a dictatorship in its place. This indeed is precisely what the President asks the law officer of the administration to advise him to do; for it is preposterous to suppose that he would put such questions to a man who had the moral courage to return him a proper answer, or, indeed, any answer other than such as the questioner himself shall dictate. All usurpers are anxious to gather around them at least a shadow of legality with which to cover their most atrocious acts.

It is very probable that this article was not written without authority. The writer enters into an elaborate argument to prove that the precedents set by President LINCOLN during the war—in ordering out seventy-five thousand men, in ordering conscriptions, in suspending the writ of habeas corpus, in suppressing disloyal newspapers, and in issuing a proclamation to emancipate the slaves—would justify President JOHNSON in arresting and imprisoning the members of Congress. The following is the closing paragraph, the italics and capitals being just as we find them:

"When political Borgias are pouring venom through a thousand mercenary journals into the minds of the people, a vast portion of whom are kept in the dark as to the real designs of the patricides, does not justice and the public welfare demand that their pernicious course should be checked? And when by audacious measures they aim at the destruction of all the cherished rights and franchises of the people, is it just to sit still until their nefarious work has been accomplished? We know that President Johnson would be exceedingly reluctant to adopt any unconstitutional measures, and we do not believe that there exists an imperative necessity for any more infractions of the "supreme law." By legitimate means the Constitution may be restored, and in another article we will show how it may be done. At present we will only remark that Thaddeus Stevens and a number of other persons violently excluding members of Congress from their seats, and acting in violation of the Constitution, cannot be legitimately regarded as THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES."

It is plain that the President and his Copperhead supporters would like to treat the elections now taking place just as the rebels did the first election of Mr. LINCOLN. But let them beware, for the country is better prepared in every way to deal with traitors now than it was in 1861; and they will fare worse than the rebels did if they undertake to introduce Mexican politics amongst us.

MALARIA EVERYWHERE.—Rarely has there been a season so prolific as this of malarious diseases. Not only on the prairies and in the valleys of the West; not merely in all the old haunts of Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fever have these prostrating diseases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before infected with them, and have even ascended the mountains and attacked thousands of people supposed to have been placed by the laws of nature above their reach. Hence we are compelled to admit that a fatal element pervades the universal air this sea on, and should at once resort to the only approved preventive of its consequences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a fluid compound, strictly vegetable, and a most effective antidote, and a stimulant so pure, that it enables the human system to resist and baffle all the predisposing influences of the year. Under the confidence that one clothed in incombustible garments might move among blazing buildings, the man who takes this tonic may walk in perfect security in all parts of the country may go but the forerunners of a deadlier scourge now on its way westward from the far east. Prepare the system with

J. B. CAPEWELL,
WIND-GUARD AND AIR-HEATER FOR COAL OIL LAMPS.
PATENTED OCTOBER 21ST, 1865.

The merits of this invention consist in its protection to lamp chimneys, which are continually breaking while being used with the ordinary lamps.

No sudden transition from heat to cold can crack or break these chimneys when the lamps can be carried with safety and without apprehension. In the most violent winds, rendering a steady light under all circumstances, and the fuel last one-third less of oil is consumed, renders this a most valuable acquisition to house-keepers. Samples sent to any part of the U. S. on receipt of 75 cents, post paid.

JOHN D. COLEMAN,

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST PAGE.)

Western University—Good Taste in the school Room—Liberality Acknowledged.

Let it not be said that Alleghenians manifest no substantial interest in the cause of education at home, or that our good Methodist friends, in their centenary zeal, have absorbed to themselves all the liberal sentiment of this sort in the community. We have no great things to tell of as the immediate suggestion of this caveat. Straws, however, tell which way the wind blows as unerringly as a gilded vane on the most ambitious steeple. The case of our young friend, Mr. Joseph E. Ayers is in point. He came here a year ago an entire stranger, to take charge of the preparatory department of the Western University. A few months intercourse with our citizens convinced him that there was, in their generous interest in the cause of good learning, a mine that needed for its successful working only the winning of their confidence on the part of him who would develop it. Mr. Ayers is not the man to let such conviction slumber within him in idle repose. He acted upon it and the result he wishes us to chronicle to the praise of the frank spirit of liberality, in which he was everywhere received.

It would be well worth one's while, in passing the University building to step in and pay a visit to this gentleman's section room, just to see what a little enterprise and faith in the possible can do in the way of making the school room—the very ideal of dinginess and hard common-place in our boyish recollections—a bright and attractive place. He certainly has accomplished wonders. He has had his walls most elegantly papered and varnished. They are further decorated with admirable portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Webster, several fine engravings, and the scarcely less ornamental maps of Prof. Guyot's series.

In the line of geography, by the way, Mr. Ayers seems to be something of a specialist. Besides the large wall maps just referred to, he is furnished also with Prof. Guyot's series of card maps, Warren's Geographical Charts, and, on his desk, Mitchell's New General Atlas, Lippincott's Revised Gazetteer and a globe. The floor is spread with heavy English linen carpeting, to the suppression of all noise from rest-ess feet. The desk is a handsome piece of cabinet work, reflecting credit upon Pittsburgh artizanship. Each pupil has also his desk and comfortable chair.

Scarcely less than a thousand dollars have been laid out by Mr. Ayers in these improvements, and this, it should be understood, has been applied in furnishing and decorating a room already in its appointments fully up to the average.

Whether this money is thus bestowed to good advantage or not, is a question that will be answered variously, according to the high or low estimate entertained of that noble department of our nature which has to do with the beautiful, and whose cultivation develops the refinement of the gentleman and the scholar.

Mr. Ayers, taking a high view of the dignity of his calling, is furnishing himself with the most improved works on the discipline of the school room, and as it falls upon him to drill the cadets in military tactics and gymnastics, he is collecting authorities on these important branches of an education. The effect of the gymnastic practices of a large body of young men, according to the system of Dio Lewis, the one in the main accepted, is highly picturesque.

Mr. A. has unbounded faith in what can be done in the way of calling forth the liberal gifts of our citizens, if they are only taken in the right way, and they certainly have shown as large a measure of faith in him.

A Sharp Grocer.

A sharp swindling operation was nipped in the bud in Youngstown, Ohio, before it had time to culminate, but not in season to save from loss several wholesale mercantile firms in Cleveland and New York. A few weeks since one G. T. Hull came to Youngstown from Warren, leased a small frame building on Federal street, near the Town Hall, and opened a grocery store, with apparent facilities for doing a small retail business. He employed as clerks two men named Stultz and Castleman. Trade did not seem to be very brisk with the new concern, but nevertheless large invoices of goods, purchased on credit, were constantly received by rail. But as Youngstown is a place where people are disposed to mind their own business, nobody inquired what became of the heavy stocks left received.

One day last week, Mr. F. M. Knight, traveling agent for a Cleveland firm, of whom Hull had made purchases, was in New Castle, soliciting orders, but was unable to make sales, being told by merchants there that they could buy the same goods of Hull, in Youngstown, at lower rates than he was offering. A look at some articles Hull had sold there, convinced Knight that they were the very same goods purchased by Hull in Cleveland. The out was out of the bag at once, and the swindle was apparent. The game was to buy largely on credit, sell the goods at once below wholesale prices for cash, and decamp with the proceeds when the indebtedness fell due.

Mr. Knight hurried to Youngstown and forced Hull to secure his claim. On his return to Cleveland he found that nearly a dozen other firms there were victims to a greater or less amount, and it subsequently transpired that one Toledo firm and half a dozen New York houses had also been taken in. The Cleveland men hastened to attach the goods in Hull's store and also a heavy invoice at the depot, and will probably escape with slight loss, but the New York merchants' claims arrived too late to secure much, if anything. It is estimated that the claims against Hull will amount to nearly twenty thousand dollars, while his assets will perhaps reach twelve thousand dollars.

Since the 10th of last month, he received by rail, 30 bbls sugar, 24 chests tea, 49 bbls flour, 15 bbls pork, 10 sacks of coffee, 9 bbls whisky, 8 bbls molasses, 28 boxes and barrels tobacco, 21 boxes candles, 3 boxes soap, 2 cases cigars and 36 barrels sugar. In addition to this, the principal part of which was received from different merchants in Cleveland, he received by the New York Wednesday night, 30 bbls sugar, 8 half chests of tea, 8 hhds of sugar, 3 sacks coffee, &c., &c., and another lot on the way from New York was stopped by telegraph at Salamanca.

It is claimed by some that the swindle was planned and executed by the clerks, Stultz and Castleman and that Hull was innocent of any intent to defraud. The crime, according to the laws of Ohio, is punished by a fine of $500 and imprisonment for ten days.

Brisk Operations in the Monongahela Valley.

By the Monongahela Republican we learn that a gang of robbers are working very zealously in the Valley these times.

On Monday night last, the store of Jenkins & Nash, at the works of the F. & M. C. Coal Company, was broken into and robbed of a considerable quantity of fine goods, and a small sum of money. The thieves gained admittance by means of a false key, left no trace behind them as a clue for the officers, and no arrests have been made.

On Thursday night a pair of fine mates horses was taken from the stable of William Kent, in Reserve township, and run off, via the underground track, toward Virginia, but all efforts to trace them beyond Morgantown have thus far proved fruitless.

On Friday night the office of L. W. Morgan, of California, was broken into and a considerable amount taken therefrom. The robbers made an attempt to open the safe, but failed to secure the large amount of money known to be in the hands of Mr. Morgan, who is the Deputy Collector of United States Revenue for the district. Fortunately about fifteen thousand dollars had that evening been removed from the office, and when the safe was blown open and the smoke cleared away, the robbers had but one hundred and fifty dollars instead of the "nice little pile" which they had counted on.

On Friday night the dry goods store of Samuel Mansfield, in Fayette City, was robbed of four hundred dollars. The room was entered through a back window opening into an alley, or narrow passage between Mansfield's store and McFeelan's saddlery. No arrests have been made.

On Friday night last a grey horse, belonging to A. S. Frye, of California, was stolen from Mr. Frye's stable, and no tracks have yet been found to the direction taken by the thief.

On Sunday last two men from Greenfield passed through Monongahela city in search of two horses, which had been stolen on the previous night. It was suspected that the thieves were coming to Pittsburgh.

A Deranged Prisoner

A Cincinnatian named Dennis Doyle, went into the watch house on Wednesday afternoon, and commenced conversation with the prisoners. The turnkey informed him that such conduct was against the rules, and requested him to leave. This he refused to do, whereupon the officer threatened to lock him up if he did not comply with his request. Doyle began to move out slowly, at the same time remarking that he would see the officer again, and shook his fist threateningly at him. He also used insulting remarks towards the officer. The latter then seized Doyle and attempted to lock him up. He showed fight, and had it not been for the assistance of some of the other officers present, officer Graham would have been compelled to free his prisoner.

Yesterday morning Dennis was brought before the Mayor for a hearing, and stated that he was subject to epilepsy, and when attacked by it was not accountable for his conduct. He said he was strictly temperate, and had never been before a committing magistrate until Yesterday morning. He had never been arrested until "the red-haired Irishman"—meaning the officer—had placed him in durance Wednesday. He had a gentle father and loving mother in Cincinnati. He had been all over the world, and was about to give a detailed account of his travels, but his speech was cut short by the Mayor. It was evident that the prisoner was deranged, and was dismissed by the Mayor after being admonished to get home as speedily as possible.

Assault and Battery.

William Johnson appeared before Alderman Lynch yesterday, and made oath against Clement Brown, a colored individual, for assault and battery. It appears that Clement became somewhat elated over a pecuniary loss Johnson had suffered, and persisted in intruding his joy on the latter by slapping him familiarly on the shoulder and pinching his cheek. This was well calculated to arose the ire of the most docile male object, and Johnson of the most docile male object, and John-ire of the most docile male object, and Johnson was not an exception. In his anger he so far forgot prudence as to call Brown some very ugly names, whereupon the latter struck him with a stone in the temple, knocking him down and injuring him very severely. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the "gentleman of color."

Singing School.—Our friend Prof. W. H. Black, than whom there is no better vocal instructor in Allegheny county, announces that he will re-open his singing school on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, at Davis' Hall, Water street, Allegheny City. The terms are such as to afford every child in the two cities an opportunity of becoming good vocalists. See advertisement.

Beecher Cautions.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have out out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article. jy11d&w

ANDREW JOHNSON'S QUESTIONS.

Anxiety as to the Answers—The Pennsylvania Election Considered in Washington—Southern Speculations About Impeachment—Bold Rebels Talking of a New Rebellion.

PHILADELPHIA, October 11.—The special dispatches from Washington, published in the Ledger this morning, to the effect that the President is about to test the constitutionality of the present Congress as a legislative body causes great excitement here. It is the subject of conversation everywhere, and some of the warmest supporters of the President express regret that he should indicate a purpose to resort to revolutionary proceedings. Much anxiety is expressed in regard to the result. It is expected the Attorney General will decide as Mr. Johnson wishes, that the present Congress is illegal; that the President need not send his annual message to such an illegal body; that the President's oath requires him to enforce the provisions of the Constitution, giving to each state an equal right of representation in Congress. These questions can be readily answered by Mr. Stanberry. But how will he answer the all important query What steps does the Constitution and his oath of office require the President to take in order to secure the assembly of a constitutional Congress

In the decision of these questions is not confined to the politicians here. The moderate men are anxious, and if Mr. Johnson personally is anxious, thousands of his best friends here deserting him.

Dispatches from Washington say the commotion created by the result of the Pennsylvania election, is sensibly felt by the friends of the Administration. Prominent Southerners declare that the Radicals have passed the rubicon, and will march almost unopposed to all ends. It is imagined that the President will be impeached and removed. The end, in the opinions of these Southern politicians, will justify any means. The Radicals have the power, and their purpose is fixed. There is but one act of the President's administration, of which they can constitutionally and legally impeach and convict him—the murder of Mrs. Surratt and the other victims of the Military Commission. The Supreme Court has declared such tribunals illegal. Every Democratic Senator, under the lead of Reverdy Johnson, will be constrained to vote upon the question of guilty or not guilty to this charge. The Senate will be unanimous; the Radicals from policy and the Democrats from conviction. The world will be taught by another eminent example that in the ways of Providence sin becomes its own avenger. That is the view of southerners here, and there are but few of them on hand.

The Henry Ward Beecher Republicans boast that President Johnson will cut loose from his Northern Copperheads and Southern rebel friends, and will extend the olive leaf to Congress. The President's policy is to unite the Union men and War Democrats, and supplying their places with oldUnkers and secessionists, are not considered successful. There are a number of Southern gentlemen who have accepted the situation as decided by the present election, and even talk about another attempt at rebellion; but all sensible men scout such an idea.

The President is remarkably composed under the reverses his policy has recently received.

FEARFUL ACCOUNTS FROM THE PLAINS.

Graves for Milestones on the Powder River Road—Indian Murders by the Wholesale.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Tribune's Leavenworth special gives the following extract from the Helena, Montana, Rep-blican: Gen. Sherman's dispatch from Fort Laramie to Gen. Grant was false, and he was criminally negligent of duty in sending it.

The Powder River road to Montana is infested by Indians, who are daily committing the most fearful depredations. For a distance of several miles between Fort Fowder and Fort Laramie, there is hardly a mile that has not had a newly made grave to tell of a recent murder. Fifty men were killed in six days. Parties are compelled to fight against ten times their number of savages, and no one is safe unless traveling in a train of one hundred or more.

The Indians are upon the war path in good earnest, with their sabres, revolvers and rifles just obtained from the treaty council at Fort Laramie. Their forces are only armed and fifty mounted men at Fort Reno. The Indians know this, and are, with boldness, stealing stock by the wholesale, burning trains and murdering emigrants. One man was pierced by thirty-seven arrows, had his hand and feet cut off and body terribly mangled. Three men, discharging the Missouri, were captured, killed and scalped by the Indians. Their names are Robbins, of Maine; Wooden, of Minnesota, and A. W. Greene, unknown.

Mr. Lowenthall's Endeavors to Get Arrested—Rumored Defalcations—Stanton Still Going out of the Cabinet

NEW YORK, October 11.—The Herald's Washington special has the following: Mr. Lowenthal reported himself yesterday morning at the different departments, solicitin arrest. The Pa master General and other accounting officers of the Treasury Department, however, finding was ranting his arrest. Lowenthal then proceeded to the Criminal Court room, but neither the Marshal nor District Attorney were willing to arrest him. He also applied in vain to the Chief of Police, but he also declined to act, and only upon the earnest solicitation of Lowenthal, accompanied him to bail on his own recognizance to answer any and every charge which may be brought against him.

Some sensation has been produced by a rumor that a defalcation has occurred in the Navy Yard Paymaster Department. The report is that Mr. Thompson, clerk in the Clothing Inspectors Bureau, has been unable to produce the proper use of his position. Paymaster Fulton, of the Yard, has been detached, and Paymaster Bogard appointed. No dereliction is attributed to Fulton.

The Tribune's Washington special says: Rumors of Cabinet changes are again rife. Seward and Stanton are said to be on the point of retiring, the former to his home in Auburn, and the latter to Spain, in place of Hale. It is too soon, however, for anything startling to occur.

Mexican Advices.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Herald's Mexican correspondence has the following: Gen. Mejia, the Imperial commander, has retired on Monterey, and a battle between his forces and those of Escachado, has probably taken place.

The report has reached Matamoras that Escachado, who had the principal organized force of the Liberals, had been defeated at Monterey.

It was stated that Maximilian had gone over to the church party, as a dernier resort, to satisfy the clergy. He had to restore all the church property, annul some of the offensive laws previously passed, and dismiss two of his ablest Ministers.

The embarkation of the Eighty-first regiment of French Infantry had been stopped to await information from France, expected by General Castelman, Napoleon's special Envoy, who was sent to to Mexico. A European banker had promised to loan Maximilian seventeen million dollars.

The proclamation of President Johnson, relative to the blockade, was looked upon as an electioneering dodge.

An American protectorate is still talked of and desired.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THURSDAY, October 11, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, were as follows: Gold, 135; 1881 bonds, 112⅝; Five Twenties, old, 113⅛; do, new, 110; Ten-Forties, 99⅝; 7-30s, 108⅜; 7-30s, 2d issue, 106. Michigan Southern Railroad, 90⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, 90⅜; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway, 103½; Erie, 84; Western Union Telegraph Company, 53¾; Chicago & North Western Railroad, 45¾; do preferred, 74½; Chicago & Rock Island, 109¾.

The material and unexpected advance in gold is attributed to political complications, aggravated by the reports of the President being disposed to doubt the constitutionality of Congress, as well as to the fact that 5-20 bonds are too much inflated here to a limit of shipments abroad.

The Columbia Oil Company announces a quarterly dividend of four per cent. The Columbia is about the only oil company in this community that has any real merit, and at present rates, it is certainly a good investment. In Bank or Insurance stocks there is but little doing.

—The revenue from customs keeps up very well, considering the advanced stage of the season, being for the week ending 30th ult., $3,742,873, at the five leading ports of New York Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans and Baltimore. It is believed that, with allowance for interest on the debt, and further liquidation of short loans, the coin balance in the Treasury at the close of the year will approximate $100,000,000. The daily internal receipts continue somewhat in excess of $1,000,000.

—It has been suggested that the government should offer the new bonds of 1865 to the public in exchange for the compound legal-tender notes and also for cash. The proposal has been favorably entertained, and the report is that some extensive transactions have already taken place. The New York Post of Monday evening says the aggregate negotiated to-day is said to be about one and a half millions, the whole amount being, as we learn, in exchange for compound notes and for seven-thirties, no sales having been as yet made for cash.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Wednesday, reports money matters in that city as follows:

Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, which in a measure restricted the elections, there was an increased demand for money at most of the discount houses, in other respects there was no change in the market. The banks are still disposed to be with a closeness that is neither agreeable to borrower nor lender, and none but those whose accounts entitle them to it, receive the accommodation sought. There is considerable currency being shipped to the interior, but not to the extent that was witnessed last week. There is no change in the bank rate of interest. In the open market good names are taken at 10@12 per cent per month, and less desirable signatures at 1½ per cent.

—A telegram from Lawrence, Kansas, says: The failure of E. H. Gruber & Co., of Leavenworth, fails heavily upon depositors, and poor families who had small sums on deposit. Two failures amounts to about $150,000. It is thought they will not be able to pay over thirty cents on the dollar. It is said the United States Marshal had on deposit some $8,000 of Government funds.

The New York Shipping List says:

Business exhibits no improvement so far as the aggregate of operations is concerned, but in view of the firmness with which the gold premium is maintained, and the fact that our country continues in excess of the demand, the general markets, with here and there an exception, maintain a firm front. It is very generally remarked among the Israelites, however, that prices of nearly all commodities, high as they appear, afford very slim margins of profit, as compared with former times. And this, in connection with the great instability of values, and an economical consumption of goods, very often forced, among the masses, operates in no small degree to limit the volume of business. These facts, too, explain why there is so little speculation at a period when money is so abundant and accessible at merely nominal rates of interest. It is generally understood that the tariff and excise laws are to be again overhauled during the ensuing session of Congress, and the fear of radical changes in financial measures undoubtedly have a restraining effect among purchasers. All the indications point to continued ease in the money market, the banks and capitalists finding it difficult to keep their funds employed, even at 4@5 per cent., which would seem to be an indication that prices of staple commodities are not to be relied upon less there should be a material decline in gold, of which there appears to be no immediate prospect.

New York Stock and Money Market.

[By Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Money steady, at 4@5 per cent. Sterling dull, at 109@109¾. Gold excited and decidedly higher; opening at 135, advancing to 135¾, and closing at 135⅝. Government Stocks without decided change. Freights to Liverpool dull.

The money market is easier and the demand is not sufficient to absorb all the offerings. The general rate for call loans is 4 per cent, but there is more business doing at 3 per cent, on Governments. The gold market fell off to 134¾@135 at the close when the Washington story was pronounced premature. Government securities have been dull and heavy during the greater part of the day, but at the close the market was steady at the following quotations: Registered 1881, 112½@112¾; Coupons 1881, 112¾@112¾; 5-20s registered 1862, 105¾@106; 5-20s coupons 1862, 113⅝@113⅝; 5-20s coupons 1864, 110@110¼; 5-20s coupons 1865, 109¾@109¾; 10-40s registered, 99¼@99½; 10-40s coupons, 99¾@99¾; August 7-30s, 108@108⅜; June 7-30s, 105⅝@106; July 7-30s, 105¾@106; June compounds 1864, 108@107; May do, 1865, 107@107¼; September do, 110¾; October do, 109⅝@110; November do, 110¼@110⅝; December do, 110@110¼; May do, 1865, 111@112; August do, 110¾@110¾; September do, 110¾; October do, 109⅝@110¾.

The Commercial's money article says of the Philadelphia Ledger's sensation Washington dispatch: It has not succeeded at 9 o'clock in the premium about 3c, which we presume falls much below the expectation of the ingenious author of the canard. The stock market continues active, but shows some irregularity in prices. The present tendency of speculation, however, favors higher quotations, governments are healthy and slightly depressed, under the rumor as to the President's letter to the Attorney General. The gold-bearing bonds are ½ lower. Some round lots of seven-thirties were pressed for sale, but in an manner and by parties which justify the supposition that the movement was merely a feint to depress the speculations connected with the report alluded to. Money is unchanged. On call the rate was 3@4 per cent. The latter being the general rate. Foreign Exchange continues dull, the Brokers only attending to still further depress quotations. The rates for Saturday's steamer are not yet fixed.

The Post's money article says: The Loan market is without noteworthy change. Call loans 4@5, and discounts 5@7, with rather more paper offering. The stock market is steady, but dull. Governments are firm. Railroad Shares are feverish, Michigan Central being the strongest on the list. After board the quotations were: C. C. C. & I., 92; Erie, 84¼; Hudson, 120½; Reading, 109¾; M. C., 118¾; M. S., 90⅝; I. C., 128; Pittsburgh, 91; C. & N. W., 45¾; do pref., 74½; Toledo, 82¾; C. R. I., 109¾; Ft. W., 103½; C. & M. cert., 93.

The Stock market, at the last open board, was less buoyant and fell off a little since the session, but soon rallied. There has been a large short interest created by the recent fall in the market when Erie broke. There are a number of strong cliques in the market, and the outside public generally believe in higher prices. Money favors an upward movement in values, and there is nothing likely to happen to permanently check the rising tendency. Ohio Certificates are being absorbed by strong parties who believe in the future of the road. Pittsburgh took a start to-day after a long period of dullness. Illinois Central is held very firmly and not offered to any extent at present quotations.

Ohio Certificates, 76@76¼; Canton, 55@56; Cumberland, 37@37½; Quicksilver, 34@34½; Mariposa, 13@13½; do. preferred, 20@20½; New York Central, 116@116¼; Erie, 84@84¼; Reading, 109@109¾; Michigan Central, 118@118½; Michigan Southern, 90@90¾; Cleveland & Toledo, 126@127; Rock Island, 109@109¾; North Western, 46@46¾; do. preferred, 74@74½; Fort Wayne, 103@103½.

The great difficulty in the way of speculators is the fact that there are but small stocks of leading goods in the market, and agents will only sell ahead at value. This puts a serious damper upon speculation, and tends to keep goods relatively low. The speculative market has been more steady this year, and less affected by agitation than for several years before, and goods have been on a very reasonable rates. Standard brown goods are one-half cent lower than yesterday morning, and now generally held at 40 cents. This calls in a better demand, and all the goods in the market to-day are wanted at these figures. Some lighter makes are 50 higher to-make prices on upper relatively low. Prints are without additional change further than that buyers show less caution in taking the few cases of goods daily received by agents at steady prices. Ginghams are fairly active, especially from a demand from jobbers holding small stocks and for exports. Some leading makes of ticks are rather lower, but rather more in demand this morning. Hoop skirts are selling freely for the leading new styles. Flannels and shawls are moving freely at uniform prices. Carpets are steady and unchanged.

Wool closed at 151@.

Railroad shares closed strongly; quotations at 4 P. M., were as follows: N. Y. Central, 116¾; Erie, 84¼; Reading, 109¾; M. C., 118¾; M. S., 90⅝; Illinois Central 126; Pittsburgh, 91; N. W., 46¾; N. W. preferred, 75½; Toledo, 123; R. I., 109¾; Ft. W., 103¾; C. & M. certificates, 93¾.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 11, 1866.

Now that the excitement attending the recent elections, has to a great measure subsided, it is but fair to expect a perceptible improvement in business. Thus far this week there has been but little done, the operations in produce being somewhat restricted, while so far as prices are concerned, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

GROCERIES—The grocery market reported steady and moderately active, with a regular jobbing demand at about previous quotations. Coffee is quoted firm at 27 to 30 for good to prime Rio. Brown Sugars range all the way from 12 to 15; hard refined, 17@18; soft do. 16 to 16½. Porto Rico Molasses to 80; Rice, 10½ to 11. Oolong Teas, 90 to $1.25; Green, $1.00 to 1.20.

GRAIN—Wheat is is firm with a moderate milling demand, but unchanged. No. 1 spring is quoted at $2.60 to $2.65. Oats in better supply, but steady at 48 to 50 on track and in elevator, and 55 to 56 from store. Sale of 1 car shelled Corn at 95. Last sales of Rye at $1.10. Barley is in demand but there is little or none offering.

FLOUR—Is firm with a demand fully up to the supply, and prices are pretty well sustained. We quote at $11.75 to 12.25 for Spring Wheat, and $12.75 to $13.25 for Winter Wheat. Sales of 100 barrels "Despianes" at $12.00; "Crossett" at $12; 60 "Pride of the West" at $11.75; and 50 barrels "Eureka" at $13.25. New Rye Flour is quoted at $7.25 to $7.50, and old do at $8.50 to $8.75.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull but unchanged at 17 to 17½; for sides; 18½ to 19 for Ribs, and at 21 to 22 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull at 19@19½. Mess Pork is held at $35.

MILL FEED—Sale of one car seconds, in lots, at $1.30. Bran is dull at $1.20. Chipped and Ironical at 90. Shorts, $1.00 to $1.10. Middlings scarce and firm, with small sales at $1.85 to $1.90.

APPLES—Quiet and unchanged. Regular sales at $2 to $3 per barrel—but the supply is largely in excess of the demand.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand at $3. Timothy Seed is in good supply and dull at $5 to 5¼. Clover Seed is selling in a small way at $8.

BUTTER—Is in good supply and dull but unchanged; sales of prime at 32 to 33. Choice Roll may be quoted at 35.

EGGS—Reported scarce and firm at 28.

CHEESE—Selling at 17 to 18 for Western Reserve; 18 to 19 for Hamburg; and 20 to 22 for Goshen.

POTATOES—Reported steady a $4,75@5,00.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 11, 1866.

CRUDE—The market continues very quiet, and while there is not much of a disposition manifested to sell, the demand is by no means pressing, and prices are barely sustained—14¼ bbls reported sold. Bbls included, with sales of 1737 bbls reported. It was rumored that there had been an offer to sell at 14¾, but, if true, we presume it was in a slight gravity. The almost certainty of an early resumption of navigation, has a tendency to depress the market somewhat, and before many days we seem to have about all the oil they need at present, and consequently, do not seem disposed to buy when there is even a possibility of a decline.

REFINED—There was apparently a little firmer feeling manifested in the market for bonded oil to-day, in consequence of the sudden and very heavy advance in gold, but there was no apparent improvement in the demand nor any advance in prices. The only difference we could perceive between to-day and yesterday, was that holders appeared to have a little more "backbone" in anticipation that the upward turn in gold, will strengthen the market for refined. There was but a single sale reported, one thousand barrels for November, delivery in Philadelphia, at 41¢. Free oil is dull as it may be quoted nominally at 55@57.

ARRIVALS.

The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Fisher & Bro..... 787 | D. M. Edgerton..... 1250
W. P. Logan..... 144 | Jas. Gallagher..... 450
Jas. Wilkins..... 248 | McCreigh & Co..... 53

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 11, 1866.

CATTLE

The market, owing to a material falling off in the arrivals and limited supply, was considerably firmer than last week, the unfavorable advices from the East to the contrary notwithstanding. There was a full average attendance of buyers, and as compared with last week, a good sale, in connection with prices, especially is the case in regard to good cattle. The falling off in the arrivals may be attributed to the fact that many of the western drovers remained at home to vote, and to the limited supply may be attributed the slight advance in prices. Stock cattle continue dull and unchanged, selling at from 5 to 6c per pound but fat cattle may be quoted firm at 8 to 8¾c, and the supply was not equal to the demand. One drove of extra Southern Ohio steers, brought 9c, or $135 per head. One drove was purchased for shipment to New York, and some operators seemed to think that the purchaser would have reason to thank his stars if he got his money back again.

SHEEP.

Market steady and fairly active, and with continued light arrivals and a better quality of sheep, prices compared with last week, may be quoted a shade higher. We quote at 3½ to 5c per common to medium, and 5½@6c for good to prime fat mutton sheep. Nothing doing in stock sheep or lambs.

HOGS.

The transactions in Hogs have been moderately large in the aggregate, but compared with last week, prices are a shade lower, and we now quote at $8.50 to $9.00 for fair to prime heavy averages. One drove of extra corn-fed brought $10,50, but this cannot be taken as a fair index of the market.

The Corn Crop.

[From the Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph.]

Soon after the heavy frost, we became satisfied that the damage to our corn crop was much greater than was generally supposed, but we kept this feeling to ourself, hoping that it would come out right after all. But the truth is gradually breaking out in Central Illinois that the corn crop is seriously injured. The farmers generally are there that very little corn in some localities will be sound. The farmers have been through their fields looking for sound corn, and have found very few. Proves to be ripe and hard. Many farmers declare they can barely find enough for seed, others have given up the attempt as a bad job, and will not gather any. Probably not half the crop is sound, while but little will escape shrinkage. All the corn will do for seed, but we greatly fear that much of the corn that will be put up will be graded "rejected" than has been supposed.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to swell steadily at this point, with five feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela pier marks last evening. It has raised almost one foot during the time of writing this article, and it is but fair to infer that there will be a rise of some magnitude in both the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers. At Oil City, the former stream was reported at 4 feet 6 inches, and Brownson, with twenty inches in the channel.
